

Fault state can be added in order to track down the fault, which then user can decide to acknowledge the fault and re-enter IDLE. For the sake of simplicity, I stuck with just these 2 states.

If measured temperature > desired temperature, ignition switch is ON, coolant volume is sufficient